Burgess Holtzworth is in receipt of a letter from Mayor Reyburn asking that he see that any courtesies possible may be extended to the Philadelphia merchants and manufacturers at the time of their visit to this place.

A BABY CAMEL

The mighty Haag railroad shows have the youngest living baby camel in captivity today, having been born in winter quarters at Shreveport, prior to the shows leaving there. The baby without doubt is the finest specimen of Siberian camel that can be found in America today. The camel has been named General Lee and bids fair to have as tender spot in the hearts of the amusement going people as did its namesake in the hearts of the American public.

When visiting the mighty Haag railroad shows which exhibit at Gettysburg, Saturday May 14, don't miss seeing the baby camel.

AUTO LINE TO START MONDAY

Automobile Line between Gettysburg and Caledonia will Start Service on Monday. Ninety Cent Fare to Chambersburg.

The automobile service between Gettysburg and Caledonia will be started next Monday according to advices from Chambersburg.

Jacob Ramer, of that place, has received an eight-passenger touring car for the service. He expects to put it in service next Monday morning, and will make three round trips a day from Caledonia to Gettysburg, starting the first one on connection with the C. & G. trolley car that leaves Chambersburg at 7:15. The exact time of the schedule has not been determined but will be announced in a few days.

It is expected that Mr. Ramer will charge 75 cents one way or $1.50 for the round trip. He is running the car on his own account, the trolley company for the present deciding not to carry out its plan of establishing the auto line.

The single fare on the trolley between Caledonia and Chambersburg is 15 cents, and with the 15 cents auto fare, the trip will cost 30 cents, which is much lower than the present railroad rate.

If the business develops, it is likely that the facilities will be increased accordingly. Mr. Ramer will also haul intermediate traffic, of course subordinating that to through passengers.

Chambersburg Public Opinion says: "This start in the matter of direct communication with Gettysburg will be received kindly by local people. Many will want to go to Gettysburg for the U. S. army maneuvers, and the State Guard encampment while commercial travelers will find the shorter journey an accommodation."

The program will be interspersed with music and the Radisill Quartette. Every Sunday School is urged to send two delegates and every superintendant should try to be present and give some report about their school.

SHOULD BE WELL ATTENDED

The recital by Miss Henrietta McDannell in Brua Chapel this evening should be largely attended. Miss McDannell's ability is recognized in Gettysburg by all who have heard her. Henry Lawrence Southwick, president of the Emerson College of Oratory says: "Miss McDannell is petite, attractive, graceful, winning and withal her work is forceful and dramatic. She has breadth, and the power and sympathy that holds. Her relation with her audience is firm and close. Miss McDannell reads fine literature with keen discrimination and rich appreciation. She can also converse with a wit and has in her repertoire many a side splitting selection and also some popular songs. I believe she will find success, and success in abundance."

FUNERAL SEATS SELL AT $1000

Enormous Prices Paid Along Route of Edward's Cortege.

SMALL FORTUNES MADE

King George Asks to See Colonel Roosevelt as Soon as He Arrives in London—Will Ride With Monarchs at Funeral.

London, May 13.—"The king's funeral procession," says the Westminster Gazette, "will contain more crowned heads and other great personages than the world has ever seen together before."

The prices of seats enroute are being pushed up to enormous figures, far higher than when Queen Victoria was buried, the most significant feature being that the demand has been made principally by Americans and Germans. A tiny, dingy first floor window was let at a price of $1000. No window in the same street is obtainable for less. One man, owning a four-story house near Marble Arch, has already netted thousands of dollars. He expects to double that amount. Outside another house near Windsor in a tiny garden carpenters are engaged in erecting a stand to accommodate ninety-six persons at $15 each.

Seats on the roofs of buildings not on the direct route, but high enough to give a distant view of the procession, are bringing $15 each. Small fortunes have been made already by people who immediately upon the death of the king let all seats in the houses which overlooked the route followed by Queen Victoria's procession, but now it is known these won't afford any view of Edward's procession.

King George has most carefully revised the route proposed, owing to the crushes which occurred at certain points in Victoria's procession. Thus, Trafalgar square, one of the best points of vantage, has been cut out, because, although it is easy to crowd people therein, it is too difficult to disperse them again by the narrow streets.

Stamp collectors are greatly excited regarding the possibilities of a new issue. King George, as a well known collector and philatelist, it is understood, will insist that the new stamps be real works of art.

King Asks to See Roosevelt. Mr. Roosevelt will be presented to King George soon after his arrival in London next Monday morning. Arrangements to this end have been made at the wish of his majesty, who expressed the desire, through American Ambassador Reid, to see the former president at the earliest opportunity.

In the course of the negotiations regarding Mr. Roosevelt the king personally extended, through the ambassador, his thanks to President Taft and the government and people of the United States for their many tokens of condolence and sympathy.

Official notification of Mr. Roosevelt's appointment as special American ambassador to the funeral of the late monarch was received at the foreign office. If precedent is followed Mr. Roosevelt will ride with visiting monarchs and other special ambassadors behind the funeral car in the procession through the streets of London.

Mr. Roosevelt will also attend the burial at Windsor. The regular diplomatic corps will join the procession at the railway station at Windsor and accompany the funeral party to St. George's chapel, being present at the services there.

Says King Edward Had Cancer. Columbus, O., May 13.—The late King Edward VII. of England was the victim of cancer and was warned of his approaching death as early as last July, according to a statement made here by Dr. James L. Holden, a local practitioner, who has had considerable experience in treating cancer. Mrs. William B. Leeds, widow of the millionaire tinplate man, who was said to be on terms of intimacy with the late king and with Queen Alexandra, is a niece of Dr. Holden. His professional abilities are held in high esteem by her, and it was at her solicitation last July that Dr. Holden made a special trip to Paris and spent some time examining the king's condition.

Kentucky's Richest Negress Dead. Lexington, Ky., May 13.—Margaret Pryor, the richest negro woman in Kentucky by virtue of the will of Major B. S. Thomas, whose slave and housekeeper she was for years, died in the palatial mansion left to her, and the money that was accumulated by Major Thomas during his lifetime will now be divided among the colored relatives of the aged negress.

Starved to Cure Stomach Trouble. Seattle, Wash., May 13.—L. E. Rader, formerly prominent in state politics and at one time a member of the legislature, is dead after fasting for thirty-nine days. Rader had been suffering from stomach trouble, and upon the advice of a woman physician decided he would take the "starvation treatment."

JURY ACQUITS "COPPER KING"

Heinze Not Guilty of Misapplying Bank Funds.

New York, May 13.—F. Augustus Heinze, erstwhile "copper king," was acquitted of misapplication of funds of the Mercantile National bank, and overcertification of the checks of Otto Heinze & Co. The jury returned the verdict of not guilty after being out a little more than three hours.

A sensation was created during the summing up in the trial, when Arthur P. Heinze, brother of the defendant, was ejected from the courtroom for having, it was alleged, disturbed the proceedings by passing the lie to United States District Attorney Wise during the latter's argument.

Mr. Wise had accused Arthur P. Heinze of patching up the books of the United Copper company and splitting them away.

"That's a lie," a voice from the courtroom audience sang out. Judge Hough rapped for order and asked the marshal if he recognized the person who made the remark. On receiving an affirmative reply, Judge Hough ordered the person ejected from the room.

The marshal walked up to Arthur P. Heinze and escorted him from the courtroom. His wife, who was in the courtroom audience, rose and followed him out.

IMPRISONED UNDER SEA

131 Miners Entombed Near Whitehaven, Eng., Following Explosion. Manchester, May 13.—Three miles beneath the sea, 131 Welsh miners, employed in the Wellington coal mine at Whitehaven, are entombed, and the rescuing parties, which have been working frantically since the explosion, have given up all hope of saving them.

Four men, who had been working at the bottom of the shaft, were brought to the surface alive, but the rescue party was prevented by the gas from penetrating to a point where the main body of men is imprisoned.

Every indication was that the inner workings of the mine were afire and there was the gravest apprehension regarding the entombed men. The colliery is owned by the Earl of Lonsdale and its workings extend four or five miles beneath the sea.

BUTLER WILL PRESIDE

University President Chosen to Direct Peace Congress. New York, May 13.—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, has been selected to preside over the sessions of the Lake Mohonk conference on international arbitration, to be held at Lake Mohonk on May 18, 19 and 20.

Millions of Acres For Farms. Washington, May 13.—A bill providing for the opening to agricultural settlement and development of the surface of lands which have been classified as coal lands, was passed by the house. The measure would reserve about 70,000,000 acres as coal land to be worked on the surface for the purpose of agriculture.

Saw Halley's Comet Twice. Wilkes-Barre, Pa., May 13.—For the second time in her lifetime Mrs. Elizabeth Hillman, of this city, saw Halley's comet. She first saw it in 1835, when she was twenty-four years old. She is now ninety-nine, but has a very clear recollection of the event.

BENDER WINS NO-HIT GAME

Athletic's Indian Pitcher Allows Only One Man to Reach First.

Philadelphia, May 13.—To Charles Albert Bender, the Athletic's Indian pitcher, goes the achievement of pitching the first no-hit game at Shibe park since it was erected; the second no-hit game this season, and next to the two greatest no-hit games ever recorded by statisticians. And Cleveland's percentage went downward as a result, the score of the contest being 4 to 0.

Matching his curves and speed against such sterling sticksmiths as Lajoie, Stovall and the other members of the Cleveland band who are promising a struggle for that pennant this season, Bender allowed only one of them to reach first base during nine innings of base ball. The famed individual was Turner, a man with an aptitude for drawing free transportation, who waited until the Chief pitched him four wide ones. But as he died stealing very soon afterward, only twenty-seven men faced the Indian—precisely the number which base ball laws require in a nine-inning game.

Missing Since Tuesday, Was Discovered Unconscious In Attic.

Danvers, Mass., May 13.—While a general search was being made for Miss Minnie E. Crawford, who had dropped out of sight since Tuesday, she was lying unconscious in an attic closet in her own home.

Miss Crawford was found by Chief of Police Merrill, who determined to give the house a thorough search. It is not known how she came to be in the closet.

Free Dyspepsia Sample

Sufferers from indigestion are waking up to the fact that peppermint lozenges, charcoal and "dyspepsia cures" are only makeshifts in the cure of so troublesome a complaint as chronic indigestion. What is required is something that will not only relieve but which will tone and train the digestive apparatus to again do its work normally, and this these simple remedies cannot do.

There is something more to the cure of indigestion than sweetening the breath, and yet a remedy that only contains digestive ingredients will not cure permanently, as the basis of indigestion is poor blood circulation, and that requires a scientific laxative, and that of no remedy that combines these requirements better than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which has been sold for a quarter of a century.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a laxative tonic, a scientific blending of natural ingredients for the cure of constipation, indigestion, liver trouble, sour stomach, sick headache and similar complaints. Its ingredients will so strengthen and tone the stomach and bowel muscles that they will again do their work naturally, and when that has been accomplished your trouble is over. Fannie Stuart, Staunton, Va., was a long-time sufferer, as was O. Tuck, Blackburn, Mo., and they both found their cure with this remedy. They became convinced that pills and tablets, "dyspepsia cures," etc., were at best only temporary relief. They first accepted Dr. Caldwell's offer of a free sample bottle, which he willingly sends to anyone who forwards name and address. Later, having convinced themselves of the free sample, they bought Syrup Pepsin of their druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 1121 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

EIGHT DROWNED IN MILL POND

School Children Lose Lives as Result of Frolic.

SIX GIRLS AND TWO BOYS

Panic Stricken Girls Grasped the Boys and Clung to Them Desperately, Dragging Two of Them Down—Four Others Saved Themselves.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., May 13.—Six girls and two boys, members of the graduating and junior classes at the Huntington Mills high school, fifteen miles from here, were drowned in a mill pond near the school. Four other boys managed to reach shore and save themselves. The drowned were all between sixteen and eighteen years of age.

The pupils came to the school from some distance and carried luncheon. After they had eaten at noon a party of the older ones, six girls and six boys, proposed going for a row on the old mill pond. They embarked in two boats. Fifteen minutes later eight of them were dead.

The victims are: Maud Sutliff, Ruth Bonham, of Towan Line; Caroline Koons, of Harveyville; Iris Davenport, Kathleen Good, of Waterton; Rachel Thompson, of Towanhill; Robert Minny and Ray Dodson, of Huntington Mills. The four survivors, George Dodson, Uriah Weitzel, Jay Koons and Harold Bell, tell a confused story. They went to the water in couples. At the side of the dam they got two small rowboats and three boys and three girls crowded into each. There was much frolic and laughter as the boats pushed off side by side. The girls teased each other and the boys about their companions. There was much splashing of the water with the oars, and some of the party used their hands and threw water on the others.

Boys Rocked the Boat.

In one boat, where the boys and girls were having a jolly time, a boy got up to change his seat. Who it was the survivors do not remember. They have an idea that perhaps two or three of the boys stood up at the same time. The boat rocked somewhat, the girls shrieked, and the boy rocked the boat a little more. It dipped some water, and the girls, thoroughly alarmed, sprang up. The next instant the boat overturned and all six were in the water, with a chorus of screams for help.

The other boat, only a few yards away, reached the six struggling in the water with a half dozen strokes of the oars. Those in the boat were apparently as excited as those in the water. Those in the boat reached out to get their playmates, those in the water seized the sides of the boat and tried to scramble in. Their weight on the gunwales pulled the boat beneath the water or they upset it while trying to climb in. Whatever happened, happened quickly, for the second boat was barely among those struggling in the water before its six inmates were also overboard.

Desperate Fight For Life.

The four survivors say that there was an overwhelming confusion. Some girls grabbed them, they seized some of the girls. All the boys could swim, and all apparently made an effort to save some of the others. Frenzied as all were, however, the girls clung to them wherever they could seize them, some around the neck some around the bodies. The survivors, who broke away after being dragged down, saw a group of four all clinging together.

Each of the boys who escaped tells of being dragged down by the girls or other boys and fighting to get away, and each reached the shore after a desperate struggle to save his own life. Apparently there were no cowards. The survivors saved themselves only when it was impossible to save others and saved themselves with an effort. They reached the shore so exhausted that it was some minutes before they had strength to drag themselves to the road and shout for help. The bodies were recovered. Nearly every victim was clasped in a death embrace about some other one.

Robert Minnick, one of the drowned boys, was the particular hero of the occasion. In the confusion he first swam to shore and then, seeing the girls were in the water, he struck out for the middle of the pond again and was drowned while endeavoring to rescue the girls.

ROOSEVELT LAUDS "FIGHTING EDGE"

Woe to the Nation That Loses It, He Says.

BERLIN UNIVERSITY LECTURE

Speaking on "World Movement," the Former President Says All People Must Develop Along All Sides and Not Neglect Arms For Science.

Berlin, May 13.—Former President Roosevelt delivered a lecture on "The World Movement" at the University of Berlin, and received from the university the honorary degree of doctor of philosophy.

Emperor William honored the occasion with his presence. It was the first time that his majesty had graced a conferment, and the courtesy was significant in view of the fact that the German court is in mourning for the monarch's uncle, King Edward.

By a curious coincidence, Colonel Roosevelt spoke in the Aula, or hall, where the kaiser, on Oct. 19, 1906, rose dramatically, after an address by Professor John W. Burgess, of Columbia university, and cried for three cheers for Theodore Roosevelt.

Four hundred guests of the university, who held cards of admission, were seated when Emperor William, accompanying Colonel Roosevelt, entered from a side door of the hall. As they appeared the university choir chanted, "Heil Dir Im Siegerkranz" (Hail to the Conquerors' Wreath), the Prussian National Hymn, to the tune of "America."

They were followed by Empress Augusta Victoria, Princess Victoria Louise, Prince and Princess Eitel Frederick, Prince and Princess August Wilhelm, Prince Adalbert, Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Ethel Roosevelt and Kermit Roosevelt. This party took seats on the platform.

Students With Drawn Swords.

Colonel Roosevelt occupied the seat at the reading desk and at his side stood the heads of the student corps with drawn swords. This striking guard of honor remained standing and almost immovable for the three hours of the lecture and ceremony.

The emperor took occasion to congratulate Colonel Roosevelt upon his lecture and its delivery so courageously accomplished under distressing physical conditions. He talked with the former president for six or eight minutes.

Following are some of Colonel Roosevelt's forecasts of "The World Movement."

"Personally, I do not believe that our civilization will fall. I think that, on the whole, we have grown better and not worse.

"I think that, on the whole, the future holds more for us than ever the great past has held.

"Assuredly the dreams of golden glory in the future will not come true unless, high of heart and strong of hand, by our own mighty deeds we make them come true.

"We cannot afford to develop any one set of qualities, any one set of activities, at the cost of seeing others, equally necessary, atrophied.

"We, the men of today and of the future, need many qualities if we are to do our work well.

"One of the prime dangers of civilization has always been its tendency to cause the loss of the virile fighting virtues, of the fighting edge.

"When men get too comfortable and lead too luxurious lives there is always danger lest the softness eat like an acid into our manliness of fibre.

"If the average man will not work, if he has not in him the will and the power to be a good husband and father; if the average woman is not a good housewife, a good mother of many healthy children, then the state will topple, will go down.

"It would be a bad thing, indeed, to accept Tolstoi as a guide in social and moral affairs, but it also would be a bad thing not to have Tolstoi.

"We must remember that it is only by working along the lines laid down by the philanthropists—by the love of mankind—that we can be sure of lifting our civilization to a higher and more permanent plane of well-being.

"[T]hat war is to be abhorred, but woe to the nation that does not make ready to hold its own in time of need against all who would harm it; and woe three over to the nation in which the average man loses the fighting edge, loses the power to serve as a soldier.

"In the Grecian and Roman military history the change was steadily from a citizen army to an army of mercenaries. The exact reverse has been the case with us in modern times.

"The single fact that the old civilization was based upon slavery shows the chasm that separates the two.

"Forces for good and forces for evil are everywhere evident, each acting with a hundred or a thousand fold the intensity with which it acted in former ages.

"Frowning or hopeful, every man of leadership in any line of thought or effort must now look beyond the limits of his own country."

BAD DREAMS

Nightmare, Restlessness and Nightsweats all Caused by Indigestion.

Half of the nervousness in the world, all of the disturbing dreams and nightmares can be ended in a few weeks by a simple, inexpensive treatment.

Upset stomach is the cause of nervousness and bad dreams. Your food is lying in your stomach undigested and fermenting; it is forming poisonous gases which irritate the pneumogastric nerve that leads direct from the brain, and ends in a network of tiny branches running through the stomach.

It is also the irritation of this great pneumogastric nerve that causes headaches. Many times people have severe headaches and know they are caused by the stomach, but do not know in what manner.

If you are nervous, have dreams or nightmares, and do not sleep sound at night, get a 50-cent box of Mi-on-a-stomach tablets and take one or two after or with meals. They relieve distressed stomach in 5 minutes. Sold by druggists everywhere and by The People's Drug Store who guarantees them to cure indigestion or money back.

Don't expect to make a success of poultry if you failed everywhere else because you were too lazy to work and use your own brain.

Don't ship dressed poultry to market and expect good prices if it is not good size and in good condition.

Don't say there are no lice on your pigeons unless you have done everything possible to destroy them, and even then don't risk any money on a bet. Where you left off killing them the sparrows may have started to distribute a few million.

Don't forget that rats are the tramps of the animal tribe. They will always stay around where a fool man lets stuff lay around for them to feed on.

Don't fail to lock up when you go away. Strangers or friends may inspect your plant.

Don't subscribe for poultry journals haphazard. A few sample copies will soon tell whether the editor is a cushion presser. The practical paper is what you want to help you do the proper stunt.

A small town we were in the other day had forty curs on the main street and from three to half a dozen in every back alley. It was apparent that the annual dog tax did not exceed a quarter and that the dog poisoner was an unknown personage.

Excluding British Columbia, Canada's wheat crop in 1909 amounted to 167,000,000 bushels. Of this total Saskatchewan and Manitoba raised 138,000,000 bushels as against 5,000,000 in 1904. The average yield per acre last season was about twenty-four bushels.

POWER CONCRETE MIXER.

Homemade Device That Is Useful on the Farm.

Of interest to farmers who need cement for any purpose, such as laying floors or walks or making posts, is a bulletin issued by the Colorado experiment station which tells of mixing concrete by machinery and prints the accompanying illustration of a homemade mixer, which is described thus:

Two pieces of 4 by 6 form the sills. Upon these two, uprights about three feet high are fastened. A one and one-half inch pipe passes through holes bored in the top of the uprights. Upon this pipe the mixing box is turned, and through the pipe the water is added to the mixture at the desired time. The water is poured in at the top of the upright pipe and flows down and out through holes which are drilled in the lower side of it. The other end of the pipe is closed by a wooden plug.

POWER CONCRETE MIXER.

The ends of the box are made of pieces of 2 by 8 bolted together. A hole bored in the center of each end forms the bearings. The sides of the box are made of one inch lumber and are simply nailed to the ends with twelvepenny nails. One-half of the box is made so that it can be detached and lifted off when the mixer is to be filled or emptied. The detachable half is secured to the other half by means of strong hooks so placed that by slipping this half about an inch to one side all of the hooks are loosened at once. After it is in position the removable portion is held in place by means of a barn door latch.

The driving gear is simple, but very effective. It consists of the rim taken from the wheel of an old rubber tire buggy. With the tire removed the grooved rim makes a very satisfactory wheel upon which to run a three-quarter inch rope belt. The belt is driven by a small sheave pulley, which is fastened to the countershaft. A belt tightener is used upon the rope, and by using a very loose belt the tightener is made to act as a friction-clutch. This particular mixer is driven by a two horse gasoline engine, which is belted to the countershaft. The engine runs continuously, and the mixer is started and stopped by means of the belt tightener.

Many other systems of driving might have been used in place of the rope belt. The main gear of an old self blinder makes an excellent gear for a mixer. An old mower gear may also be put to good use in this connection. It is not necessary to have the mixer driven by an engine or horse power. A crank may be attached and the machine turned by hand. Many prefer turning such a machine rather than mixing the concrete with a shovel.

THE SMALL BOY IN THE GARDEN.

Give that restless, active boy a corner of the garden patch and let him have for his own pocket all the money he can make from the truck he sells from it. Have him keep exact account of his operations so that he will know just how much he has made above expenses at the end of the season. Tending such a garden patch will keep him occupied, give him something to think about besides baseball and going swimming, and incidentally it will be a good deal easier to locate him when he is needed for one cause or another. It will be a valuable factor in the lad's practical education and will be helpful to him in many other ways.

TAKING THE WHOLE

COUNTRY BY STORM

The new remedy is a recent discovery, but it is taking the whole country by storm. It has cured so many people throughout the state within the past few months that scores of newspapers are publishing local testimonials, giving names, streets and numbers of many people whose word cannot be doubted. The remedy certainly must have remarkable merit as so many people after using it a short while are advising their sick friends to try it. The Greensburg, Indiana, Daily Review recently published the following: Mr. J. W. Boyle, of 116 East Washington street, said: "My wife has been taking Root Juice and it has done wonders for her. Before taking it she had a very bad stomach. The lightest food would sour on her stomach and cause it to burn and pain her very much. In fact, she said she felt like it was raw from top to bottom. Recently her trouble was aggravated by an attack of la grippe. Her appetite was very poor, but after taking the Root Juice a few days she had a good appetite and could digest everything she ate without the least pain or inconvenience. She is no longer weak and nervous, and seems like a new woman. The remedy has proved a wonderful blessing to her." In fact, so many people are talking about the new remedy and telling about its great soothing, healing and toning qualities to the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys that it is now hard for the Root Juice people to make it fast enough to fill all orders. It is retailed for one dollar a bottle. Many local people have testified to its wonderful merits, as anyone can learn by going to the People's drug store.

MOORAY, FISHIN', MOORAY!

Dum, dilly, dig some fishin' bait. Git down the fishin' pole. I seen some big fat suckers. Down at the swimmin' hole.

There's catties over at the dam. An' mummies in the crick; There's eels down at the wagon bridge. That's awful long an' slick.

Yep, git a lot of them big grubs. What's near the apple tree. They're jist the stuff for them white chubs. We'll ketch a lot, you'll see.

An' tell your mam we're goin' soon. We want some hard boiled eggs. Some bread an' pie an' cake an' cheese. An' tender chicken legs.

An' don't forget the bottle; It's on that upper shelf. It ain't no good for youngsters; I want it all myself.

There's ague turkin' in the swamp. I'll take a drink right now. We'll start to fishin' over there. Beside that ole mud scow.

Mo'ray! Oh, won't we ketch the fish? Yep, make them stringers long. An' use the toughest twine you got. Them eels is awful strong.

By golly, what a whooper bite! There's ague here, I fear. I ketch him. Ain't he big and white? Jist pass the bottle here.

PURE WATER FOR POULTRY.

When you drew up the old oaken bucket that hung in grandpap's well and smacked your lips and said, "Golly, that's good!" you weren't thinking of microbes, were you? "Not much! No microbes in that pure crystal water." But, oh, you death-dealing microbes! The doctors now have everything giggling with you, and when there's an epidemic they don't rubber boots and rubber at the water supply or hold up the milk wagon, for milk, you know (naturally), is muchly water.

But, oh, you microbe sleuth! Do you know a hen's egg is 650 parts water?

When that epidemic gets loose do you ever test eggs from Bughouse row, where fowls are forced to drink drainage from closets, hogpens, oozy manure piles or where flocks drink from open water vessels where litter and excrement soak, rot and breed microbes deadly to hen and man. And, you myriad egg eaters and lovers of meat, can you save your health by a pure food act and boiling and filtering water when 650 parts of an egg and the juices of that fat hen may wiggle with germs?

No hen can lay a pure, finely flavored, good keeping, healthy egg nor can flesh be pure and healthy when the drink is microbe mixture.

Nor can any flock do its best and be kept healthy when forced to soak food for grinding in foul smelling, death-dealing liquid.

Typhoid, smallpox and tuberculosis germs have been found in eggs, and epidemics among hens and men may often be traced to the water supply of fowls.

Let those microbe sleuths get busy in the chicken coops and forbid such reprehensible treatment of hens and roosters. Do you love a pure, fresh, cold drink? Well, so do Biddy and old Fan and Rover.
